

Unheard

Boy Hits Car

Thrust really thru her wave
What was on the other side
Of the flowing blue curtain
You're most alive before you died
If we cry underwater
We can hide the suffering
Then go rejoice in life's splendour
Cuz death awaits like an old friend

So do you dance with the whirling wind?
Becoming the voice of the ring up in the air
Do you dance with the whirling wind?
Becoming the voice of the ring the earth its stratosphere

I'm here to tell you something surfing from another side
Though I am riding to see acid on to lecture
So where are you when all the music is for caution heard
Well tonight it seems that maybe things will coward her

Now there's an unheard presence it screams about our aliveness
'cuz now the night is split and bleeds what did it take to be set free a bullet in to faceless nights it seems there's no place to confide
I think I see myself in you
Some web will only hide the truth

we need to believe in something
'cause everyone seems to be dying to be set free
we need to believe in something cuz everyone seems to be dying to be set free

I'm here to tell you something surfing from another side
Though I am riding to see acid on to lecture
So where are you when all the music is for caution heard
Well tonight it seems that maybe things will coward her
(2x)

Unheard in life, until they die.
So unheard in life, oh until they...until they die.

(whispered mumbles. Can't be expected to figure this out)

I'm here to tell you some things. Working for ??the prophet's?? side.
For I am writing to see us in our true nature.
So where are you when all the ??fears?? of this world are shattered.
Well tonight it seems that maybe things will go unheard (2x)

Hide in life until they die
Well hide in life until they...until they die
