Boyce Avenue

When life's a mystery
Then take the road less traveled
And pave the way for someone else

Your tracks will set you free
Even if the road unravel
The path was always in yourself

So take the reins and hem the seams
And all your hopes and tattered dreams
And paint a world where there's no need to cry, cry

Be yourself Cinderella
(Oh, be yourself)
'cause no one else could do it better
(Oh, be yourself)
And when that clock strikes midnight
Even if those kicks don't feel right
I'll stand by you forever
So be yourself Cinderella
Just be yourself Cinderella

No time for childish ways
Or so you say in sorrow
The fairy tale was just another lie
But all your yesterdays will soon reveal tomorrow
You'll have your once upon a time

Just take the reins and hem the seams
And all your hopes and tattered dreams
And paint a world where there's no need to cry, cry

Be yourself Cinderella
(Oh, be yourself)
'cause no one else could do it better
(Oh, be yourself)
And when that clock strikes midnight
Even if those kicks don't feel right
I'll stand by you forever
So be yourself Cinderella

Through the years and the tears that you've cried
Oh, be yourself
Through the doubt from a love you've been denied
Oh, be yourself
And you could chase down someone else's bliss
But the beauty is that you are who you are.

Be yourself Cinderella
'cause no one else could do it better
And when that clock strikes midnight
Even if those kicks don't feel right
I'll stand by you forever
So be yourself Cinderella
Just be yourself Cinderella
I'll stand, I'll stand by you forever
So be yourself Cinderella
