

I Had To Try

Boyce Avenue

Some much to lose but so much to gain
I couldn't let it all just slip away
If I've just kept my mouth shut
I regret all the things undone
I didn't want to be asking what I've become I knew you'd probably judge me, but I had to try
I don't care if you never get me,
I had to try

I came around,
broke your walls down
Wrong or right,
I had to try
I made it count,
cross your name out
Wrong or right,
I had to try

So much to prove and so much to save
I couldn't stand around while you slipped away
If I had just carried on and moved right along I'd still be asking where did I go wrong

I knew you'd probably judge me but I had to try
I don't care if you never get me
I had to try I came around, broke your walls down Wrong or right,
I had to try
I made it count,
cross your name out Wrong or right,
I had to try

I came around,
broke your walls down
wrong or right,
I had to try
I made it count,
cross your name out
wrong or right,
I had to try
I had to try, had to try
I had to try
