

It was a Friday, the rain was pissing down
I took my Norton and I rode into town
There was this young kid, all dressed in black
Riding his Honda and looking real slack
He tried to take us on the edge of town
Didn't see the school bus that could have mowed him down
He swerved to miss it, I swerved to miss him
As I came off my bike, I saw him grin
I caught him on the motorway, he was doing one four five
He couldn't leave me behind no matter how he tried
I'd never felt so good before as he hit the safety rail
Seeing that Jap junk break in two was worth my time in jail
And together we'll ride away...
I'm getting out soon, how I long for that day
My Norton is waiting, and together, we'll ride away...
