

The Perfect One

Boz Scaggs

Echoes across the frozen lake
The stillness' still much more than I can take
I hear the final hours chime
And wonder if this note will arrive in time

Stop! Right where you begin
We might as well give in
'Cause we're tumblin' anyway

Whoa, start, right where it should end
But start again like friends
Let our hearts refine the way

May you, you and I
Never be undone
May you, you and I
Be a perfect one

Find that face within a crowd
And watch it slip away behind a cloud
Funny how a smile can stray
And end up half a universe away

Stop! Right where you begin
You might as well give in
'Cause we're tumblin' anyway

Whoa, start, right where it should end
But start again like friends
Let our hearts refine the way

May you, you and I
Never be undone
May you, you and I
Be a perfect one

May you, you and I
Be a perfect one
