

Work Out Fine

Brad Sucks

She's alone all by herself, her body and her car's a mess,
And nobody cares about a thing she says.
Cut your losses and pack it in, just taking it for a spin,
Just lucky you didn't wind up dead.

Playing it safe wasn't good enough.
Maybe once you should lose your mind.
Well it's hard to believe it sometimes,
But everything is gonna work out fine.

Took the chance and wrote it off, and then he called the cops.
And pulled no punches in his statement.
It was hard to write it down, how she was upside down.
In a busted car half off the pavement.

Playing it safe wasn't good enough.
Maybe once you should lose your mind.
Well it's hard to believe it sometimes,
But everything is gonna work out fine.

Playing it safe wasn't good enough.
Maybe once you should lose your mind.
Well it's hard to believe it sometimes,
But everything is gonna work out fine.

Talking to strangers and going through changes and you're on my mind.
Talking to strangers and going through changes and you're on my mind.
Talking to strangers and going through changes and you're on my mind.
Talking to strangers and going through changes and you're on my mind.
Talking to strangers and going through changes and you're on my mind.
Talking to strangers and going through changes and you're on my mind.
On my mind.
