

Be Gone

Brand New

It's getting hard to stay up
I think I can hear God calling my name
He'll try to make my heart break
But I was told you'd call me tonight

They're calling my name

They won't slow the car down
I'm scared that I will keep it for my own
The one that is calling my name is telling come down

They're calling my name
They're calling my name
They're calling my name, calling my name
