

Cannonball

Brandi Carlile

I was born when I met you now I'm dying to forget you
and that is what I know Though I dreamed I would fall like a wounded cannonball sinking down with my heart in tow

Bright lights like white lightning
Who shot me down
Who cut me down
I'm frozen in my bed till the day comes around
How I'm lost, how I'm found

There's a man all alone telling me his friends are gone that they've died and flown away So I told him he was wrong that your friends are never gone
If you look to the sky and pray

Someone told me a lie Someone looked me in the eye and said time will ease your pain But behold, when you fall its that same old cannonball coming back for your heart again

Bright lights like white lightning
Who shot me down
Who cut me down
I'm frozen in my bed till the day comes around
And it may come around Till the day comes around
How I'm lost, how I'm found

I was born when I met you
Now I'm dying to forget you
and that is what I know