

Open Doors

Brandi Carlile

So we haven't seen her anywhere around and i fear Brianna is six feet underground and i could not apologize enough to set me free so if you see Brianna won't you tell her this for me

i would open doors
help you on your way i don't want to lie no more
i think i've found my place so what are you waiting for i just want to wish you well and i don't want to call no more and i would open doors

gravity ensures us closer to the ground and i keep my feet planted firmly in the clouds so i would often wonder if you'd ever come around cuz you're the only one who'd always bring me crashing down

i would open doors
and help you on your way
i don't want to lie no more
i think i've found my place
so what are you waiting for
i just want to wish you well
and i don't want to lie no more
i would open doors

so what are you waiting for i'll help you on your way
i don't want to lie no more
i think i've found my place
i would open doors
just want to wish you well
and i don't want to lie no more
i would open doors
i would open doors