

Never Get You Right

Brandon Flowers

It's a coin toss, its a game on
Your were born lost and dirt blonde
No curfew with your drunk mom
No one to stop you know

And I'll give you my opinion its the only one I got
They'll turn you into something whether you are it or not

But they'll never get you right
I've been watching you all night
And the people passing by
They should tremble at your sight

These bad dreams and these back seat
High beams through the dark streets
A good angel with bad wings
No one to help you out

And I'll give you my opinion it's the only one I got
They'll turn you into something whether you are it or not
Through a microscope lens dissecting your whole life

But they'll never get you right
I've been watching you all night
And the people passing by
They should tremble at your sight

But they'll never get you right
I've been watching you all night
And the people passing by
They should tremble at your sight

They'll never get you right

Everybody talks from the wrong side of the mask
Gliding through the universe as the world goes rolling past
Don't give into the pressure 'cause it isn't gonna stop
The world goes on around you whether you like it or not

But they'll never get you right
I've been watching you all night
And the people passing by
They should tremble at your sight

They'll never get you right
Get you right well they're never gonna get you right
