

Set On You

Brandon Heath

Just try to follow me cause I got something that I want to say and I know it sounds crazy but I am going to tell you any way when I close my eyes lately I'm so far from sleep as i lie mostly awake your always on my mind for as long as the night takes through the dark I toss and turn with you its all I can do cause I got my heart set on you, its set on you somewhere inside you eyes you hold the deepest part of me and maybe someday you'll realize just how to solve my big myste ry when you look at me sometimes I wonder what you see you take my hand so unafraid your wash away the old through all this mess I've made nothing else can hem me like you do so you leave me no choice there's nothing I can do cause I got my heart set on you living out our destiny God had plans for you and me way before eternity began sure has an angel burning fire your going to see my hearts desire to find its way to you where it belongs, where it belongs

so as time goes by as long as I'm with you you know the reason why finding as I'm growing old with you there's a love still brand new cause I've always had my heart set on you
