

A Storm Blew In

Brandon Rhyder

A storm blew in last night and it just won't quit
And if he's still standing when it's all said and done I'll be surprised of it
She decided that it was time for her to admit That when push come to shove she was sick and tired of dealing with him
A storm blew in last night whether he likes it or not Now he's bleeding from so many places he can't seem to make it stop
Did he take her for granted or did he just ignore
The sounds of her feet pitter patter a million times out the do or

CHORUS

A storm blew in, and where there once was four walls
Is nothing but a raging river, the end of a thirty year war
A storm blew in, when it rains it pours
The end of a thirty year war
A storm blew in last night and now she lives down the road 64 miles seems like forever it might as well be around the worl d
Now he sits in the dark gasping for air and praying to the Lord God give her back or take me, I got nothing left to live for

A storm blew in last night and it just won't quit
And if he's still standing when it's all said and done I'll be surprised of it
