

Head Above Water

Brandon Rhyder

One day out of the blue my head was above water
I memorized your eyes in silent wonder Cause I never knew that you would come to my rescue Until one day out of the blue, I met you, and my head was above water

I saw your face so many times while I was going under But nobody heard my cries through the lightning and the thunder
I tried to trace my steps back to you, but they were all washed away
Until one day out of the blue, I met you, and my head was above
water

I will never see the same, now that I look at you May I always have your eyes to dream in to I will live out my days, my dying days, just trying to thank yo u
Because one day out of the blue, I met you, and my head was abo ve water

One day out of the blue, I met you, and my head was above water
