Saving Amy

Brantley Gilbert

Amy's got the letters I wrote My picture in a frame She's had a year to let go She's still wearing my ring

It hasn't left her finger Since the night that I proposed When I promised her forever Before I took her home

But I never made it home that night A part of her died too I watched her losing her mind And there's nothing I can do, oh

Sometimes she goes crazy
Screaming out my name
Saying, "Baby, please come and save me"
I wish she knew I'd do anything

To kiss the tears right off her face Tell her everything's okay Feel her heartbeat next to mine And make up for lost time

Oh, but God, I know I can't You can't let her live this way It's too late for saving me But there's still hope for saving Amy

Now 3 years have gone by She's trying to live her life And I still watch her sometimes Just to make sure she's alright

She knows I'll always be there
In her heart and in her dreams
'Cause God, I promised her forever
And that's one promise I intend to keep

To kiss the tears right off her face Tell her everything's okay Feel her heartbeat next to mine To make up for lost time

Oh, but God, I know I can't
But you can't let her live this way
It's too late for saving me
But there's still hope for saving Amy

I'll kiss the tears right off her face When I walk her through these gates Feel her heartbeat next to mine Make up for lost time

God, I thank you everyday
For giving her that ounce of faith

That led her right back here to me And most of all for saving Amy Saving Amy

Thank you, God, for saving Amy For saving Amy Thank you, God, for saving Amy For saving Amy, yeah

For saving Amy, for saving Amy Saving Amy Thank you, God, for saving Amy
