

I Fell Away

Brave Saint Saturn

Did you see me falling down from Heaven?
Breaking every bone I have
So I tried to touch the sun
I had another fall you can do the math

I was wrong is what they'll say
I watched their smiles fade away
I watched their black and white turn gray
Their picture perfect worlds decay today

Today I fell to earth again, again
I guess I failed You, I guess I cannot win

Today, today
I fell away, I fell away

Did you see me falling down from Heaven?
Trailing wings of melted wax
Accelerate, at nine point eight

Accept the fact I'm going to crash
And so called friends have gone away
And all advice will cease to stay today

Today on fragile wings I tried to touch the sun
'Cause wax and feathers melted
All my dreams have come undone today

You lift my battered soul
You mend my broken wings together
You lift my battered soul
You mend my broken bones together

You lift my battered soul
You mend my broken bones together
You lift my battered soul
You mend my broken bones together

Yeah, today, today
I fell away, I fell away
Today, today
I fell away, I fell away
