

The Sun Also Rises

Brave Saint Saturn

The chord runs up the microphone
I flip the switch, we're going home
Transistor's right on time, resistors fall in line
Capacitors are at full, all engines good, no breach of hull
With all the hope that I could beg or borrow
I can't wait, can't wait for tomorrow

I believe the sun also rises
Dries our tears, bringing the blue skies of day
I believe the sun also rises
Lighting our past, driving the darkness away
So far away, so far away

Microchips will pave the way
The circuitry will work okay
With all the hope that I could beg or borrow
I can't wait, can't wait for tomorrow

I believe the sun also rises
Dries our tears, bringing the blue skies of day
I believe the sun also rises
Lighting our past, driving the darkness away
So far away, so far away

I believe the sun also rises
Dries our tears, bringing the blue skies of day
I believe the sun also rises
Lighting our past, driving the darkness away
So far away, so far away, so far away, so far away
