

Iconoclast

Brazil

Your sky falls forever
A black heart endeavor
The game of laissez-faire
Aces in the air
Your eyes stare forever
On the cold dry hereafter
Hiding an affair
I swore was never there
It's over and under, and over and under.

In the city that never sleeps
You are the creature that never wakes
I thought you were someone else

Scent of attrition
Lean in to listen
"Resurrect the dead on Jupiter." she said.
Times game is wasting
Worldwide lambasting
A billion miles away
A deadly bird of prey
Flies over and under and over

Force fed my tongue every time
Why are the words nonsense?
