

A Mile Away

Breakbot

Time
Is slipping away, girl
There must be something that I can do
To change, it's unpredictable, goes around girl
So it will slowly lead me back to you

You know that I'm living in the same world
Like the rest, I'm trying to make one out of two
And though the roady walk has been a demon, I admit,
I keep believing in a dream come true

It's hard to say
Sometimes I wish they'd just get in the way
Could it be I'm not the only one
Who's grown tired of these games we play?
I'm simply trying to tell you that

Happiness is only a mile away (Away)
Maybe we could walk together (We can walk together)
Loneliness is only a heartache away (Away)
Maybe we can make it better (Better)

Happiness is only a mile away (Away)
Maybe we could walk together (We can walk together)
Loneliness is only a heartache away (Away)
Maybe we can make it better

I will never be the one to break this promise that I made
To walk beside you in this empty space
And I will never be the one to run ahead of you, I swear
I'm looking for a journey, not a race

It's hard to say
Sometimes I wish we'd grow up right away
Could it be I'm not the only one
Who's grown tired of these games we play?

Happiness is only a mile away (Away)
Maybe we could walk together (We can walk together)
Loneliness is only a heartache away (Away)
Maybe we can make it better (We can make it better)

Happiness is only a mile away (Away)
Maybe we could walk together (We can walk together)
Loneliness is only a heartache away (Away)
Maybe we can make it better (We can make it better)

Happiness is only a mile away (Away)
Maybe we could walk together (We can walk together)
Loneliness is only a heartache away (Away)
Maybe we can make it better (Better)

(Away)
(We can make it better)
(Away)
(We can make it better)
