

Had Enough Of You

Breaking Point

I always wanted to be with you
But only when i'm away from you
And I have always hated loving you
And all the pain you put me through
Now i, have had all that i can take from you
And now that the game is over
I'm here to let you know that

I have had enough of you
The shi you put me through
You know i never cared that much for you
I have had enough of you
You treat me like a fool
You know i never cared that much
I've had enough of you

You play like an angel saving grace
But all the lies are on your face
And i, have put up a shield to fend from you
And now that the game is over
I'm here to let you know that

Only time can take away
All the pain you left in me
Only time can pave the way
But now that the worst is over
I'm here to let you know that

I've had enough of you
