

How Does It Feel

Breaking Point

I could never be the one for you
You're so filled with hate
I could never treat ones like you do
It's time to change my fate
And every time i open up to you
All you do is you shut me out
And every time i've tried to work with you
All you do is you bring me down

So how does it feel
To care for no one
How does it feel
To treat me like you do
And i don't wanna drown in sorrow
So how does it feel
To be alone

I've been hearing voices in my head
Telling me to forget
I've been seeing signs for quit some time
Now i'm left with regret
And every time i think i'm through with you
You always seem to come around
And every time i've tried to work with you
All you've done is you've brought me down

How does it feel to be alone?
I could never be the one
Be the one
Be the one for you

How does it feel to be alone?
I could never be the one for you
