Breaking Point

Hey, you see right through me
Wait, isn't that your specialty
I see your soul's inclined to shadows
You're here today, you're gone tomorrow

Well we could reach up and take the sky
But you'd find a reason or alibi
Well you're black and white in color
Well you're over and under

Hey I question your intentions
Wait are they real, are they illusions?
Ah, here I go once again
This time, I will
This time, I can

Well, we could reach up and take the sky
But you'd find a reason or alibi
Well you're black and white in color
Well you're over and under
Over and under

You're high on your throne
Get on your knees and crawl
You're under

Well, we could reach up and take the sky
But you'd find a reason or alibi
Well you're black and white in color
Well you're over and under
