

What A Way For Us To Say Goodbye

Brenda Lee

As I feel another day beginning,
Waking up, I find you in my arms
We have played the game where's there's no winning.
Laying here our bodies feel so warm

Sometimes love will hit you with no warning.
Like the sun comes creeping across the sky
What a way for us to face the morning,
What a way for us to say goodbye

I've tried to memorize your kisses,
Maybe I'll have something later on
In my mind I'd like to keep your image,
To help me through my nights to come

Sometimes love can hit you with no warning.
As we part this company in our eyes
What a way for us to face the morning,
What a way for us to say goodbye

I've tried to memorize your kisses,
And maybe I'll have something later on
In my mind I'd like to keep your image,
To help me through my nights to come

Oh, sometimes love can hit you with no warning
As we part this company in our eyes
What a way for us to face the morning,
What a way for us to say goodbye.

What a way for us to face the morning,
What a way for us to say goodbye
