

You Only Broke My Heart

Brenda Lee

I've had a million rehearsals for the moment
I see you in someone else's arms
I've mastered my emotions
Since we've been apart
You think I'm lonely
But you only broke my heart.

If they'd just make a movie of our love story
I'd be the hero in a real life tragedy
I'd probably win an Oscar
For the most convincing part
You think I'm lonely
But you only broke my heart.

You think I'm lonely
But don't let these tears mislead you
I've learned to live in the past
And my memory doesn't need you.

I'll be alright till the morning I wake up
And find that your memory has left me too
That'll be the day
Mhm when my lonesome really starts
You think I'm lonely
But you only broke my heart.

You think I'm lonely
But you only broke my heart.
Mhm hum, mhm...
