

How 'bout You

Brendan Benson

Does it break your heart each time I fall apart?
Does it give you purpose in this life?
And when I tell the truth
Does it mean as much to you?

I could never live a lie
How 'bout you?
And I don't think it's so wrong to feel
I've lived too long

Without the pull of gravity beneath me
And it's not so hard to believe
These tricks I use to deceive
Like a rabbit from a hat or card up my sleeve

Thought about being with you
Thought how it's always been
You takin' apart what I glued
I know it's mine but it's crude I think you're so rude

Follow the moon and the sun
And all of the damage it's done
I want to but I can't run
I know it's only just begun

It ain't no fun
Thought about eyes of green
And all of the shit that they've seen
Never made it past seventeen

Man what a scene
You know what I mean?
Thought of a skull and crossbones
The poison it runs through our bones

The junkies that live with their jones
Always reaping what they've sown
My mind is blown
Thought of what's yours and what's mine

And who all has got that much time
Hey mister can you spare a dime?
The words always rhyme
The sun don't shine
