

The Skeptic

Brendan James

Once there was a man
A good and honest man
He came home one day to his loving family
He said you'll never believe
We have got to leave
Daddy wants to make a toast
We're heading out for the west coast

Driving US 1
Counting the stars and sun
Turns to his wife and says
"How could I of believed em
I got the call today
There's no job waiting for me
