

Don't Mess With Karma

Brett Dennen

Didn't anybody tell ya?
Don't go messing with karma
It'll come around
Didn't anybody tell ya?
Don't go messing with karma
It'll come around

Old man picking flowers for a funeral
Street choir's singing hallelujah
They'll smile through the pain
There ain't no wrong way to pray
Another sad eye looking for a laughter
Another kid growing up a little faster
You want someone to trust you, well you've got to be true

Didn't anybody tell ya?
Don't forget that love is all you came here for
Not anything less, need I say more?
Need I say more?
Don't forget that love is all you came here for
Not anything less, need I say more?
Need I say more?

Didn't anybody tell ya?
Don't go messing with karma (it'll come around)

True love is the right of every human
Who are we to take away the union?
You want something for yourself
Give it to someone else
Go around using God as a reason
What if all that you believed in
And what you thought was right turned out to be just a lie?

Didn't anybody tell ya?
Don't forget that love is all you came here for
Not anything less, need I say more?
Need I say more?
Love is all you came here for
Not anything less, need I say more?
Need I say more?

Don't forget that love is all you came here for
Not anything less, need I say more?
Need I say more?
Love is all you came here for
Not anything less, need I say more?
Need I say more?

Love is all you came here for
Not anything less, need I say more?
Need I say more?
