You Are My Home

Brian Doerksen

Oh, yeah, yeah

I've looked for love in so many places Trying to find out where I belong Wandering through this barren land of longing Looking for the place called home, a place called home

You said, 'Come to me all you who are so weary And you will find true rest for your souls' Lord, let these words of life speak into my heart Anywhere I am I can be home

You are my home, You're my true home I am safe inside the shelter of Your love You are my home, You're my true home I am free to be a child once again

Oh, I'm free in You

You are my one true destination The place I eternally belong You made me from the earth and then You breathed into me life Redeemed me from my sin and brought me home

You are my home, You're my true home I am safe inside the shelter of Your love You are my home, You're my true home I am free to be a child once again

My heart is restless, till it rests in You My heart is restless, till it rests in You Until I dwell in You Until I find my home in You

Until I find my home in You, yeah I belong to You You are my home, true home

You are my home, You are my shelter You are my home, yeah, yeah, yeah, yeah You are my home, You are my shelter You are my home

Bring me home