

Not Now

Brian McFadden

Tongue tied, thoughts are restless but I, I've tried to forget this

But I'm so tired tonight, take a breath because I'm so high I think you're gonna leave me, give me something to believe in if I'm gonna try

I'm sick and tired of breathing when there's something so decei
ving in your eyes tonight

Not now, deal with it later

Right now's just too complicated

It's on my mind but it's not the time

Why can't we deal with it later

Strung out, I'm hearing voices and they're so loud, a crowd of noises

And I'm too scared to lose, nothing I ever do pulls through - f or you

I think you're gonna leave me, give me something to believe in
if I'm gonna try

I'm sick and tired of breathing when there's something so decei
ving in your eyes tonight

Not now, deal with it later

Why can't we deal with it later
