

Just Lemme Know

Brian McKnight

Here we go again with the crying on my shoulder
Say you want me but I know you can't stand
Day after day passes, getting older
What do you want from me baby?
Then you told me, have me believing
That you love me but right now you can leave
Lately I've been feeling like the one who's been deceiving
What do you want from me? Tell me, just let me know
The way you wanna play it, just let me know
Write me a letter if you can't say it, just let me know
The way you want me to be, is it him or is it me
If you need time, in the meantime, just let me know

If you're not sure then let's be honest
Make up your mind it's too
You gotta know, and my heart might break
From just from broken promise
What do you want from me baby
If you think I'm foolish, you got me mistaken
If you can love me then why not to set me free?
your word, let it just be
What do you want from me? Tell me, just let me know
Let me know, let me know
What do you want from me? Tell me, just let me know
The way you wanna play it, just let me know
Write me a letter if you can't say it, just let me know
The way you want me to be, is it him or is it me
If you need time, in the meantime, just let me know
What's on your mind, don't wanna waste
Don't wanna waste more time
Just tell me how, how you feel
I need to know if it's done or what we have is for real
Let me know, let me know
Where you wanna play it, just let me know
Write me a letter if you can't say it, just let me know
The way you want me to be, is it him or is it me
If you need time, in the meantime, just let me know
Let me know, let me know
Where you wanna play it, just let me know
Write me a letter if you can't say it, just let me know
The way you want me to be, is it him or is it me
If you need time, in the meantime, just let me know.
