

Say What You Want

Bridge to Grace

Say what you want
Say what you mean
Moonlight on street signs are passing by me
Closed conversations
You fight with the voices
Inside of your head

'Cause I'm not the one who is crazy
You're not the one who's insane
So we'll spend our life pointing fingers
We both know you're to blame

So say what you want
Say what you want
Say what you want

Say what comes natural
Say what comes free
I'm taking fire
And can hardly breathe
There's no turning back
Once that line has been crossed

'Cause I'm not the one who is crazy
You're not the one who's insane
So we'll spend our life pointing fingers
We both know you're to blame

So say what you want
Say what you want
Say what you want

Say what you want
Say what you want
Say what you want

'Cause I'm not the one who is crazy
You're not the one who's insane
So we'll spend our life pointing fingers
We both know you're to blame

I have grown tired of excuses
I'll put you back in your place
So we'll spend our life pointing fingers
We both know you're to blame

So say what you want
Say what you want
Say what you want

Say what you want
Say what you want
Say what you want
