

Null And Void

Brigade

So jump if you would like to I knew down below it's easier to try
I guess we've had enough of the lies that we find on the inside of love
You're not the only one around here who can take this all away
I've been all that I can face but this time I despise the breaking point's closer To the way you say goodbye I can't hide all mistrust while you shake off your pride
You're not the only one around here who can take this all away
Take some time to think this over and destroy everything
Your breath on my neck broken lights out slowly gone
You're not the only one around here who can take this all away
This isn't all I hoped for this isn't much at all
