

Sound The Alarm

Brightwood

Wake up, find the key
Search for the answer now
The castle came crashing down
A million bodies on the water
None survived
(Mumbling)
I'll tell you everything that I see
I see it coming on
I see a stranger, a thousand lovers
I see a fire in the sky
The earth begins to shake
Look up, the moon is red

Brother, where have you gone?
Am I the only one?

Be ready for me, my love
Like a thief in the night, I'll come
A shadow in the sun
I will take you away
We will disappear into the night
This is our ever after

The storm
It's not over
I can hear it
The sound of a trumpet
I hear a voice like thunder
There's a darkness falling
The dark is here

Brother, where have you gone?
Am I the only one?

Be ready for me, my love
Like a thief in the night I'll come
A shadow in the sun
I will take you away
We will disappear into the night
This is our ever (our ever after)

Be ready for me, my love
Like a thief in the night I'll come
A shadow in the sun
I will take you away
We will disappear into the night
