British India

When we left off I was choking on asbestos
They've seen it all and they're not impressed
And in the night time celebrities with fragile jaws
Force us all to feel underdressed, impressed?

This party is finished, give us xanax and fifteen minutes
I had my alibi tight that night
And change the station the bottled water generation
And four white boys getting high tonight

Twenty thousand kids all on their mobile phones
Twenty thousand kids all on their mobile phones
You want advice but you don't wanna take it
You want advice but you don't wanna take it

She's just waiting for something better
She's only with you until she changes her mind
She's just waiting for something better
Everything all the time, everything all the time

And in the nightclub, I was there it wasn't like that
You come here just to start a fight
And change the station this bottled water generation
And four white boys getting high tonight

Twenty thousand kids all on their mobile phones
Twenty thousand kids all on their mobile phones
You want advice but you don't wanna take it
You want advice but you don't wanna take it

She's just waiting for something better
She's only with you until she changes her mind
She's just waiting for something better
Everything all the time, everything all the time

What?!

You can't fuck with this real shit home boy

Twenty thousand kids all on their mobile phones
You want advice but you don't wanna take it
You want advice but you don't wanna take it

She's just waiting for something better
She's only with you until she changes her mind
She's just waiting for something better
Everything all the time, everything all the time, fuck!
Fuck!
Whoa!
