Childhood Memories

British Sea Power

Jesus the weather was so good today
But I believe a change is on the way
And a little electricity won't hurt
And no a little electricity won't hurt

Especially when we're all out of gas And coal and oil, and steel and cash But a little electricity won't hurt And no a little electricity won't hurt

And your politeness it could kill
And it's more than likely that it will
First it was getting better now it's getting worse
And then it's getting wetter now the ice age is complete
So everybody go

God help us if the radiation leaks
God help us if nobody knows for weeks
But a little electricity won't hurt
And no a little electricity won't hurt

And your politeness it could kill
And it's more than likely that it will
First it was getting better now it's getting worse
And it's getting wetter better call the hearse(?)

And can we move a little fast and go a little further Move a little faster

Go and everybody go home

And everybody go that

And everybody go this

And everybody go that

And we go [Repeat: x18]

Oh, oh, a little child has been
