

The Gift

Bro'Sis

The snow is fallen, the city is white
Your eyes are shining like diamonds tonight
And were all alone there's no one hope
You're finally in my arms again

The night is silence and christmas is here
I couldn't ask for more than heaven is near
'Cause I love you so and I always will
And now I know the moment is right

I've been waiting to give this gift tonight
I'm down on my knees there's no better time
Its something to less for as long as you live
Tonight I'm gonna give you
All my heart I can give

I thought I give you something shiny and new
I try to find something worth be of you
But I realize when I looked inside
There's something that money can't buy

I feel the magic whenever you near
I feel it even more this time of the year
'Cause I love you so and I always will
And now I know the moment is right

I've been waiting

You know I always be true to you
And you know I'm the one I can turn to you
Oh yeah
Any time, any place or anywhere
You know that I always be there

I've been waiting

I've been waiting to give this gift tonight
This gift is for you
