IDve been a slave to this road for so long it seems, The white lines are never ending, And they haunt my dreams. I force these smiles all night, And it hurts my cheeks, My stomach turns, My hair turns white, Itos only been three weeks. This long term separation, From loverDs getting old. I break hearts across this nation, But there so one back home that s killing this boy. Brace yourself, brace yourself. The confession s coming in, Gonna make it loud and clear, There \square ll be blood flowing falling from your ears. (2x) Your selfish words and insults, Are killing me. ThereDs no movement on the dance floor, And my throat can It sing. My glossy eyes look for you, But they just can It see. My stomach turns, My hair turns white, Itos only been three weeks. This long term separation, From loverDs getting old. I break hearts across this nation, But there so one back home that s killing this boy. Brace yourself, brace yourself. The confession s coming in, Gonna make it loud and clear, There \square ll be blood flowing falling from your ears. (2x) This long term separation, From lover s getting old.
