Night Siege

Brocas Helm

Chill and grim, the coming dawn Seems a century away For mist and dark first brought them here And in dark and mist they slay

Arrows arching through the night Bring flame within our walls And spells they've sent to steal our souls Hold many here in thrall

Night is a fantasy take it away
Metal's unreal in the morning
These five million warriors
Belong in a dream
You'll wake up if you scream out a warning
Night siege

So chill and grim, the castle now Our prison and our grave Yet, surely dawn will slay these fiends If it comes in time to save

Night is a fantasy take it away
Metal's unreal in the morning
These five million warriors
Belong in a dream
You'll wake up if you scream out a warning
Night siege

Night is a fantasy take it away
Metal's unreal in the morning
These five million warriors
Belong in a dream
You'll wake up if you scream out a warning
Night siege
