

Verdrinken

Brodequin

Restrained fastened to a plank outside world cutoff from witnessing the judgement Set forth upon thee cloth placed over the mouth eyes roll back blood rushes to the Head consciousness fading continuous stream of water poured in forcing the material down The throat cloth removed and set to start again while uncontrollably choking

Head dropped downward with a struggling force swallowing up the breath from all screaming And pleading clamping the lips together verdrinken mouth reopened with an iron and Set in place then sensation of drowning being a suffocating pain water reingorging Itself quickly flows choking the groans for help
From the rapid expansion body distorted and swollen
From the rapid expansion body distorted and swollen
