

Beautiful Girl

Broken Iris

Woke today, another memory passes of you
Shades of gray from those three broken words
That unfold the truth but...

I'll never forget those eyes, that beautiful smile.
I still remember the way you said "good-bye"
No matter how hard I try I can't forget about

Beautiful Girl
On top of the world
Don't fall down
Because an angel
Should never touch ground

Last embrace, forcing you away before it's too late
I end this day in a most bitter way
A regretful state but...

I'll never forget those eyes, that beautiful smile.
I still remember the way you said "good-bye"
No matter how hard I try I can't forget about

Beautiful Girl
On top of the world
Don't fall down
Because an angel
Should never touch ground

Here I lay, I drift away, you come in and lay beside me
It's got to be a memory that feels so real but just beyond me
Mesmerized, In you I find what I had was unrealized but Emptiness settles in as I awake

Beautiful Girl
On top of the world
Don't fall down
Because an angel
Should never touch ground
