

Forevermore

Broken Iris

We collide, synchronized
As I gaze into your eyes
Feel our souls lose control
When your body softly glides
Over mine; picture fight
But our hearts feel it's the time
Won't hold back, at least I'll try
Till you end with me and show me

Beautiful
I'll show you wonderful
As we share the love
I'll show everything
That you've ever dreamed of

Here we lie, side by side
Now your heart pounds next to mine
Our two souls are surely whole
Now that I have realized
It's the way your body sways
It's your voice that calls my name
It's your lips, the way they taste
And how you look at me
And show me

Beautiful
I'll show you wonderful
As we share the love
I'll show you everything
That you've ever dreamed of

There couldn't possibly be more than this
I am incomplete in other places
Forevermore
You show me

Beautiful
I'll show you wonderful
As we share the love
I'll show you everything
That you've ever dreamed of
That you've ever dreamed of
