Sweetest Kill

Broken Social Scene

I thought you were the sweetest kill Did I even know? And all the time we thought we did Was it just for show? If they try to pull you out Would you even go? I thought you were the sweetest kill Did you even know?

I held your hand until the light The scars were on the back And all the time we were the right Was it just retract? And they can try to put you down, wear you out Get you through the idea of the luck I thought you were the sweetest kill Did we even know?

All the time, we get by Trying to figure out our lives Like a fade out All the time, we get by Trying to figure out our lives Like a fade out

When we took the level ten Was it just a twelve? And when we went to where we've been Was it just for self? And they can try to wear you down, put you out Get you through your will that won't work I thought you were the sweetest kill Could I even know?

All the time, we get by Trying to figure out our lives Like a fade out All the time, we get by Trying to figure out our lives Like a fade out

I break you through this world I break you through this world Let me break you through this world Can I break you through this world?
