Lucky Me, Lonely You

Girl you've got lonely written all over you I can read the writing from across this crowded room All by yourself there in your world of blue Lucky me, lonely you

Must be in the cards
Fate played a part
Brought us here tonight
Heaven must have lined the stars up in the sky just righ

Girl you've got lonely written all over you
I can read the writing from across this crowded room All by yourself there in your world of blue Lucky me, lonely you

Who knows the right song, a slow dance Might heal your heartache Somethin' tells me $I$ don't know
I just might be here to save the day

Girl you've got
Oh you've got lonely written all over you
I can read the writing from across this crowded room All by yourself there in your world of blue Lucky me, lucky me, lucky me, lonely you

