

Love Loves You Too

Bruce Cockburn

Some people get to make the news
Some people get to say what's true
Everybody's got to find their own way through
But if you love love, then love loves you too

Some people get to fly by night
Some people get to shine a light
Everybody's got to find their own way through
But if you love love, then love loves you too
But if you love love, then love loves you too

Some of us hunger for the finer things
Some lust for power like the ancient kings
Some have to leave behind everything they thought they knew
Some people don't know how much trouble they can brew

Some take the burden of another's pain
Some spend forever for a moment's gain
Everybody's got to find their own way through
But if you love love, then love loves you too
But if you love love, then love loves you too
