

Change of Heart

Bruce Dickinson

Here I sit,
Alone at the window
The rain
Falls down
On the glass In the cold
All my life
I've been waiting
For a moment
It never came
Maybe never will
Ah, sometimes I don't know

Those days are gone
Now I hide where I just can't say
I'm still there
Watching you tears
As They fall to the ground

You, you're walking away
You couldn't stay
You need a change of heart
You, you're walking away
You couldn't stay
You need a change of heart

Trees are bare - The earth it is hard
I wait for winter,
Soft winter and snow

Those days are gone
Now I hide where I just can't say
I'm still there
Catching you tears
Before they fall to the ground...

You, you walking away
You couldn't stay
You need a change of heart
You, you walking away
You couldn't stay
You need a chang of heart again...

And I know
Wherever you go
I'll be around, yeah...
I'll be there watching your tears
As they fall to ground...
