

Navigate The Seas Of The Sun

Bruce Dickinson

Distant earthrise long ago lingers at the borders of our minds mysteries spinning in the dark in the frozen emptiness of time we were lost and we never knew who we were or what we left behind living half-lives we were blind to the new frontiers that opened up our eyes to find our minds were spinning souls entwined in a spiral dance the ancient ways have found us again to give us one last chaaaaaaance living in this place staring into space we find we might share the corners of our lives infinity runs deep

eternity that we can keep melting through the frozen wastes of time so we go and we'll not return to navigate the seas of the sun our children will go on and on

we'll navigate the seas of the sun

we can go on tomorrow living death by gravity couldn't stand it anymore we'll sail our ships to distant shores purple gold and blue living colors every hue flowers in the garden of the gods no one can ever know if you never saw them grow but this darkness is really full of light

[solos]

now beyond the earth beyond all things that gave us birth we'll navigate... if god is throwing dice c and einstein doesn't mind the chance
we'll navigate...
we'll navigate...
flowers of our souls purple blue and gold we'll find to navigate... so we know who we are even in this frozen waste

we'll navigate...
staring into space we'll find
we'll navigate...
well beyond the earth
we'll... if einstein's throwing dice and god he doesn't mind the chance
we'll navigate...
flowers of the soul
purple blue and gold and who we were before eternity...
we'll navigate...
