

Final Mile

Bruce Kulick

Getting on the carousel again
Been here before I don't remember when I'll be gone but only for a while
It's hard forme to say a long goodbye

Still the world keeps turning
Can't stop my eyes from burning
I hope when it's all over
You'll be waiting on the final mile
When the night is falling
It's only your voice calling
And if I lose direction
You'll be waiting on the final mile

They'll come a day when I can settle down
Firmly plant my feet on solid ground
I know I risk that you'll be drawn away
I try to bring it closer every day

Still the world keeps turning
Can't stop my eyes from burning
I hope when it's all over
You'll be waiting on the final mile
When the night is falling
It's only your voice calling
And if I lose direction
You'll be waiting on the final mile

Still the world keeps turning
Can't stop my eyes from burning
I hope when it's all over
You'll be waiting on the final mile
When the night is falling
It's only your voice calling
And if I lose direction
You'll be waiting on the final mile
