

Life

Bruce Kulick

Life is a crazy game
Sometimes you just can't win
But love is the way to see
Just what your world can bring

Dreams are the way to know
Just what our future holds
Fate's in the cards we play
So let the journey begin

How long, does it take to see the signs
That our minds keep on spinning

Touch is the way to feel
The beauty that's in our hand
See what you've never seen
The heart that's inside this man

How come it's so hard to carry on
When the world seems so unkind
Every lie that we say keeps the truth far away
From us over and over again

Fear makes us run and hide
Love makes us more secure
Faith gives us peace of mind
From the trouble that's in our world

How come it's so hard to carry on
When the world seems so unkind
Every game that we play keeps the truth far away
From us over and over again

Life changes day by day
Sometimes you win or lose
And love is a gift in life
Be careful of what you choose
