

Desperately

Bruce Robison

Every night it's the same, I hear you callin' my name
Your lyin next to me
I give in to your charms, You disappear in my arms
I realize it's just a dream, but

Desperately I long to feel your touch
But you left me all alone in love

Shake the sleep from my head, and try to crawl out of bed
Today is just another day
I make the coffee for one, I turn the radio on Pretend that everything's ok, but

Desperately I long to feel your touch
But you left me all alone in love

And now there's no reason to smile, it's gonna take me a while
'Cause I still love you desperatley

Desperately I long to feel your touch
But you left me all alone in love

And now I watch the sun goin' down, there ain't nobody around
I feel a night in the breeze
I keep on tellin' myself, I don't need nobody else
And I can do as I please, but

Desperately I long to feel your touch
But you left me all alone in love

And now I desperatly I long to feel your touch
But you left me alone in love
Every night it's the same
I hear you callin' my name
I still love you desperately
I still love you, I still want you, I still love you desperatel
