

No Greater Love

Bryan Duncan

Late at night
While the city lies sleeping, the streets grow quiet
As I'm searching my heart
I remember the time
You first touched my life
And no one could reach me
'Til the power of Your love set me free
And the walls I had made
They were all washed away
Your love came raining down on me
Straight to my soul
Straight to the very heart of me
And now I know
You are the reason I believe
No greater love in my heart
A greater love than this world has ever known
More than I could ever dream
It'll conquer anything
There is no greater love
Than this love
Sun brings a new day
Shining so sweetly
Lights my way
To another road
Where it leads, heaven knows
Now that I'm living forever with You
You touched my soul
You touched the very heart of me
And now I know
You are the reason I believe
No greater love in my heart
A greater love than this world has ever known
More than I could ever dream
It'll conquer anything
There is no greater love
No greater love in my heart
A greater love than this world has ever known
More than you could ever dream
It'll conquer anything
There is no greater love
Everybody dreams sometimes
Hopin' for somethin' to change their lives
I'm no longer searchin'
I found the answer in You
Hey!
No greater love in my heart
A greater love than this world has ever known
There is no greater love
Than this world has ever known
More than you could ever dream
Oh, there is no greater love
No greater love in my heart
Oh!
It'll con
