

Stop

Buck 65

Stop you need to listen
Just let me show you and you'll see what you're missing
Just let me show you and you'll see what you're missing

You're the girl I was meant for Spent some time, should have spent more
Riding a bike with bent forks
Don't get mixed up with the centaur
I can't take my finger off pause
Scan on tea through my crass claws
Curse myself coz I can't sleep
Loner and a rebel with a lost cause

Get away I've a lot to lose
I've got a little love to give
So don't keep pushing, pushing, pushing, pushing me away

Stop you need to listen
Just let me show you and you'll see what you're missing
Just let me show you and you'll see what you're missing
(Stop, look, listen, stop)

She has the power to enchant him
Battle of the pretty versus handsome
Boy that was born with the phantom limb
Truth of the matter is I can't swim
Promises go unspoken
Something deep down is broken
Been trying to hide my scarred heart
What happens next is the hard part

I think the world of you
So wake up, coz I need to tell you
My heart, my heart is for you
I'm tired of hearing about you
Knowing second hand
This has gone on way too long
Why can't we give this thing a chance
Lets face your heart is hard to get, it's hard to get, it's hard to get, it's hard to get Go on and...

Stop you need to listen
Just let me show you and you'll see what you're missing
Just let me show you and you'll see what you're missing
(Stop, look, listen, stop) (X4)
